1. Mission Statement

Pathway Care Residential is part of the NFA Group, the largest combined children's services group in the UK. Our operating businesses successfully deliver frontline fostering, educational and care services to children, their families and local authority customers.

Our purpose is to provide outstanding care and education to the UK's most vulnerable and difficult to place children and young people whether with specialist foster parents, within education or in a supportive and understanding environment of residential care.

We offer each and every child and young person courtesy and respect, and work in conjunction with local authorities to deliver a range of care, education and other specialist services which offer best value whilst ensuring the best possible outcomes for each child.

As a group, we benefit from a wealth of experience allowing young people the opportunity to thrive and develop by realising their potential whilst being happy and feeling valued.

2. Objectives of Park House

Park House is a PCR home committed to providing care to children/young people with learning disabilities on a long/medium/short-term basis depending on the needs of the young person. Park House provides a holistic, safe, stimulating and supporting family environment where children/young people cared for can live, learn and develop.

The home provides a high standard of care, educational support and accommodation for up to four young people aged 8 and 18 years. We work in partnership with relevant Social Services departments, and other agencies within a clear and comprehensive policy framework, in line with Pathway Care Residential policies.

The staff team at Park House are highly committed to working intensively providing care and support to all young people who come to live here.

The home endeavors to avoid the negative aspects usually associated with institutional residential living and create an environment and atmosphere, which reflects many of the positive aspects of a normal family home.

The aims of the home are to work towards the following for each young person (depending on their identified individual needs):

- Promote opportunities to help children and young people with learning disabilities achieve their full potential.
- Provide accommodation which is suitably adapted and meets the needs of children with learning disabilities
- Provide a safe and supportive environment where children and young people are listened to and encouraged to express their needs, wishes and feelings.
- Promote confidence and independence.
- Provide opportunities for children and young people to make choices.
- Develop individual care plans to meet the needs of each child or young person.
- Work in partnership with children, their families and significant others.
- Assess and take acceptable risks in order to enable children and young people to develop their full potential.

2. Objectives of Park House

Prior to admission every effort is made to establish the long-term plans for each young person and a care plan is prepared which clearly focuses on his or her individual needs. If necessary, the care plan can encompass access to counselling, behaviour support, the development of life skills and semi/full independent living packages.

Progress by the young person towards achieving the main objectives of the care plan is monitored and reviewed regularly and with other professional representatives of the responsible local authority at statutory intervals. Should there be a marked decline in the young person's behaviour their Social Worker would be contacted immediately.

The objectives of the care plan are to:

- To treat each young person as an individual and help them to learn and develop their care needs.
- Support those behaviours through behaviour management plans, risk assessments, rewards, which are unacceptable for the young person and/or others.
- To ensure that all people associated with the young people work together as a team to help the young people to achieve their goals.
- Develop those life skills which have been inadequately developed in the past.
- We will train, develop, and support our staff to ensure their standards are high.
- Assist the young person to form, maintain and build relationships with other young people and adults and to integrate into social groups.
- We will ensure that we provide a safe, warm and caring environment.

The staff team at the home value the role of the keyworker and on arrival, each young person will be allocated one, together with a co-key worker who can act on the keyworker's behalf when they are not available. The role of the key worker will include responsibility for:

2. Objectives of Park House

1. Promoting the young person's participation in and the ownership of their care plan or semi/full independent package
2. Actively putting the care plan as well as any independent package into action
3. Ensuring the care plan or independent package is reviewed at appropriate intervals
4. Ensuring the main aims of the placement are kept on target
5. Ensuring that the young person's file is kept in order and up to date
6. Ensuring that all necessary appointments are arranged and social workers, parents or significant others are kept well informed.
7. Being a contact person for the young person to approach if they have any concerns, worries or aspirations they want to discuss.
8. Being responsible for promoting personal health and hygiene, active participation in all individual or group activities and the attendance at the young people's meetings and discussions relating to planning the weekly menus and activities.
9. Assisting the young person to establish, promote and maintain positive links with school, family members (or significant others) and other professionals involved in their care.

PCR believe that:

Residential care should provide children and young people with skilled support from committed staff in a safe, caring and ordered environment.

We have a responsibility to ensure that children and young people in residential care are protected from abuse and neglect.

Care should form part of a range of services, which combine to meet children and young people's needs and support their families and carers.

We should recruit and support staff that are carefully selected and have opportunities to develop skills and professional practice through training and supervision.

2. Objectives of Park House

Teaching basic problem-solving skills when upsetting situations arise help the young people to make better choices, and an acknowledgement of good behaviour with rewards, praise and positive feedback helps reinforce their strengths and builds awareness of his/her own talents and abilities.

Equality & Diversity Statement:

PCR, and each of its individual homes, takes very seriously matters pertaining to Equality & Diversity and in doing so, seeks to address the unique needs of each individual child or young person in its care.

12. Health Care Provision at Park House

Park House adopts and follows Pathway Care Residential Policy and Procedural guidelines on the provision of Health Care for every child/young person. This ensures a consistent and proactive approach to health and health education by both staff and children. The central focus of our Health Policy is to empower the child/young person and to provide them with the tools to make informed decisions about their health.

All young people within our care are registered with a local General Practitioner unless they have remained at their previous surgery and have access to a range of other health care facilities, which include:

Park House staff accompany all young people on these visits and will complete a medical treatment form and update the children's individual health record forms, which assists staff with monitoring young person's health outcomes.

Park House Health Care Policy includes providing information on physical, emotional & sexual health. Our philosophy and approach is that good health is achieved through paying attention to basic needs such as nutrition, adequate sleep, regard for safety, and appropriate medical attention when required.

13. Education, Educational Services Offered and Local Schools

Park House believes that all our young people have the right to an education suited to their needs, ability and personal aspirations. We acknowledge research suggesting that children within the care system are potentially at risk of poor educational achievement due in part to many extrinsic factors.

Therefore, we believe that we have an Absolute Duty to ensure that children in our care achieve generally and educationally to their highest potential. Park House staff are all involved in proactively implementing needs assessed Individual Education Plans (I.E.P.) for each child. Key workers/Unit Management oversee the implementation of I.E.Ps, PEPs and SEN/RHC plans and monitor progress in order to maximise achievement.

Park House creates a positive culture and environment for valuing education with adequate space and facilities for children to do their homework including quiet well-equipped study areas with educational resources. We actively promote co-operation and dialogue with relevant educational establishments through attendance at appropriate school functions, continuous discussions and dialogue regarding the needs of the child/young person. Particular attention is paid to the attendance levels and we can support to maximise these.

Our staff team ensure that every child/young person is encouraged to participate in communal and group activities of their own choice.

All Park House staff recognise the importance of monitoring the participation in leisure, recreational, and social activities, whilst ensuring that adequate alternatives are offered to every child/young person, as and when required. We also acknowledge that a child/young person is entitled to time when he or she is doing nothing in particular.

There are a number of leisure, recreational, and social activities available, including access to and use of fitness gyms, youth clubs, tennis, badminton, cinemas, football, cookery, billiards/snooker, bowling, indoor cricket, ice skating etc.

Each child/young person in a PCR home is involved in completing a weekly Personal Planner that sets out the structure of the week ahead. This ensures that both children and staff are able to form a picture of the week ahead ensuring balance and variety. This system also serves review and monitoring activity.

15. Consultation Arrangements

The way the home functions enhances every child's independence and opportunity to make everyday choices. Significant views, discussions and expressed opinions are recorded promptly in the relevant places and the young people receive regular feedback following consultation, to ensure matters are not taken for granted. Keyworker sessions, meetings with the appropriate people and young people's meetings are used to gain feedback, ideas feelings and wishes from young people using different communication tools.

In line with Policies, Park House encourage young people to have access to their personal files, however, there may be specific reasons to withhold certain information from young people. The young people will be allowed regular access to their files; their appointed key worker will undertake this task.

The young people will be given guidance on their rights regarding information contained in their personal file. They are also actively encouraged to see files held by their Social Workers as a positive feature.

16. Methods of Promoting Good Behaviour

Park House looks to promote positive relationships between the adults and children within a clearly defined policy framework.

None of the disciplinary measures prohibited under Regulation 8 of the Children's Act 1989 are permitted at Park House. All staff at Park House aim to work together with children as a team to enhance our ethos of a family home within a framework of continuous positive reinforcement of good behaviour. In addition, appropriate use of [age/understanding-sensitive] sanctions and disciplinary measures are only applied after careful consideration as defined within Pathway Care Residential policy and procedures.

16. Methods of Promoting Good Behaviour

Our approach encourages reparation and restitution and we seek not to allow negative behaviour to become the focus of attention. PCR staff will not make excessive or unreasonable use of sanctions or physical Intervention.

Physical Intervention is used only in specified circumstances i.e. to prevent likely injury to the child concerned or to others, or likely serious damage to property. All PCR staff are trained in the use of Physical Intervention techniques, which include Avoidance and Reduction techniques. Clear records are kept of the use of sanctions and physical restraint ensuring that the application of the same can be monitored and reviewed at regular intervals.

Under the provisions of a Multi-Agency-endorsed Time-Out Behaviour Management Plan, a sensory room may be used as a Time Out room. In such cases, the objective is to relocate the resident away from others behavioural triggers as a means of de-escalating extremely challenging behaviour by way of enabling the resident to calm down and lower his/her levels of arousal.

In such circumstances, our sensory room may be used when the respective young person presents a serious risk of harm to him/herself or others due to actual, or potential, self-harming or displays of aggressive behaviour towards others; including: persistent kicking, hitting, biting or head butting.

Each respective young person has an individual Risk Assessment for the use of the sensory room.

All staff attend training in the use of Managing Actual and Potential Aggression (MAPA), a behaviour support approach based on Crisis Prevention Institute (CPI), which is accredited by the British Institute of Learning Disabilities (BILD). CPI is an internationally recognised crisis prevention and management system that reduces reliance on high-risk interventions. CPI recognises that it is the actions and reactions of those around young people that strongly shape and influence their behaviour, as well as their social and emotional development.

16. Methods of Promoting Good Behaviour

Its emphasis is on empathy and proactive support, while physical interventions are very much considered a last resort.

To keep young people safe there are times when the use of physical interventions may be needed. This would be as a last resort to support young people in crisis, to reduce both stress and risk. In such instances, we follow BILD guidance. Pathway Care Residential have BILD accreditation for children's services. Where additional measures of physical intervention do become necessary, our procedures are clear, fall within government guidelines, are agreed between parents and local authorities as permissible in certain circumstances to make dangerous situations safe and are always documented.

17. Safeguarding / Bullying

Statement of Principles

Pathway Care Residential (PCR) believes that all children have the right to be protected from all forms of abuse, whether this is physical, sexual or emotional abuse or neglect. Our approach to all aspects of care delivery is Child Centred. With regard to Child Protection we firmly believe that the blame for abuse will rest solely on the abuser and that the welfare of the child will always remain centre-stage.

Concerns over the safety or well-being of a child will never be ignored.

The child protection procedures are consistent with the local policies and procedures agreed by the Local Safeguarding Board.

17. Safeguarding / Bullying

Written records of all incidents are taken by staff and reported to the relevant bodies. The atmosphere created at Park House is one where bullying is known to be unacceptable. There is a policy on countering bullying, which is known to children and staff. Any child experiencing bullying is supported and regular risk assessments of the times places and circumstances are recorded, and action is taken where feasible to reduce the risk of bullying

To define abuse, PCR has adopted the definition provided by the National Commission of Inquiry into the Prevention of Child Abuse, 'Childhood Matters'

"Anything which individuals, institutions or processes do or fail to do, which directly or indirectly harms children or damages their prospects of safe and healthy development into adulthood"

Our Safe Guarding policy aims to:

1. Provide clear and specific guidelines to enable staff to deal with Safeguarding issues effectively.
2. Set high internal standards to ensure that the children cared for by PCR are well protected
3. Ensure PCR's credibility as a professional care organisation remains high and that purchasers feel assured that PCR is a 'safe' organisation
4. Ensure that every individual working for PCR knows what to do in a Safeguarding Emergency.
5. Ensure all staff follow the safeguarding Action Plan.

17. Safeguarding / Bullying

Safeguarding Policy

At Park House, everything we do is geared to the protection, happiness and development of the child. Our Child Protection Policy (hereafter referred to as 'the policy') is detailed, extensive and child-centred.

The policy provides detailed definitions of physical, sexual and emotional abuse, mental cruelty and neglect.

Also, the policy sets out clearly, and in considerable detail, who is responsible for dealing with suspected or actual incidents of abuse, defines how matters of abuse should be dealt with and provides supportive guidance to officers who may be involved in dealing with such matters.

Other aspects covered under our policies include:

- Disciplining Children
- Direct Work with Children — Protecting Staff
- Whistle Blowing
- Confidentiality
- The duty of care and public liability insurance
- Records and Record Keeping
- Computer Safety
- Working with Social Workers.

The PCR policy framework and management approach is designed to minimise the risk of child abuse. However, we recognise that with the best will in the world there is always a chance that a child located in the safest of environments may fall victim to abuse. At PCR, no Safe Guarding issue is ignored. Our response to any allegation or suspicion is child-centred, transparent, swift and affirmative.

17. Safeguarding / Bullying

Bullying

Park House is committed to providing a residential environment where young people can live safely, without the fear of oppressive behaviour from peers by any form of bullying or intimidation. At PCR, we understand that the risk of bullying from children with a learning disability can be minimised through robust compatibility and assessment at admission stage.

PCR provides all staff and children in our homes with clear definitions of Bullying. We believe bullying can take many forms from verbal, cyber, emotional, sexual or racial abuse to actual physical assault.

In all cases PCR staff will:

1. Investigate fully any indication of bullying.
2. Support the victim to prevent any further oppressive behaviour from others.
3. Re-assure the victim that being bullied is not acceptable and that it is not their fault they are bullied.
4. Minimise any further opportunities for bullying to occur by whatever strategies are realistic and achievable.
5. Confront the bully with their actions so their oppressive behaviour is not condoned by inertia.
6. Pursue legal action should the nature of bullying indicate the need for this.
7. Arrange for an urgent review to include all involved parties from whatever agency to identify an action plan to deal with the bullying including the appropriateness of placements.
8. Identify and action positive alternatives for both victim and perpetrator to develop those skills necessary for positive relationships.
9. Keep a written record of all incidents and actions taken.

Bullying and oppressive behaviour has no place within our society of which PCR homes are a part. We are committed to an equality of service that demands a safe and caring environment for all service users.

18. Missing from Care

Park House provides all residential staff and children with written procedures, which are clearly followed when a child is absent without Permission. The application of the Absence procedures is consistent but at the same time take account of the individual child's needs which are clearly set out in his or her Placement Plan.

Any child that is away from a PCR home is made welcome upon return — the principal aim will be work with child/young person to find out why he or she felt the need to leave his or her home without consulting or seeking permission from staff. Wherever possible, and in any case as soon as possible after he or she has returned, the child/young person will be seen by his or her social worker or a person who is independent of the home. If this is not possible, PCR will always record the reasons given by the child and these are reported to child/young person's social worker. If appropriate, changes to Placement / Care plans are recommended and agreed with appropriate people, including the child/young person.

Any reports from a child that indicates he or she went missing in response to being abused will be immediately reported to Social Services and appropriate measures are made to protect the child/young person.

When a young person is absent from the home or the supervision of a member of staff without consent or authority, and then the following procedure will be followed:

- Staff will initially conduct a search of the interior of the home then the outside surrounding area to locate and confirm the whereabouts of the young person and their safety.
- If the young person has not returned to the home within a previously specified time then a member of staff should go out and look for the young person. This should only be done after consultation with a colleague and it has been agreed that such action will not place the other young people or staff at risk.
- If the search by staff has proved inconclusive then the member of staff searching for the young person should report the young person as missing to the local police in accordance with timings within their risk assessment. They should also notify the young person's Social Worker, parents and any significant others. If outside normal office hours then the young person's Out of Hours Duty Team must be contacted.

18. Unauthorised Absence from the Home

- The time period for reporting young people missing to the Police when they are out with a member of staff would be made after consideration has been given to their age, personal circumstances, vulnerability and previous history.

This time period should be clearly noted in the young person's care plan and risk assessment and updated according to need.

The Young people in Park House are supervised on a minimum 1:1 (or 2:1 where required) staffing ratio, at times, some of our young people may access the community on their own as part of their independent living skills; this is risk assessed and Park house staff are able to contact the young person whilst they are in the community and young people's whereabouts recorded within the home's log book. Young people (and staff) are logged on and off site at all times along with the activity and location they are going to.

All visitors are logged within the log book as well as signed into the visitor's book and are supervised at all times.

Park house young people benefit from a waking night staff and they are subject to 30 minute discreet checks during the night.

19. Surveillance

The home at present has door sensors fitted to the young person's bedroom doors and to the main front door. The door sensors are on all the time and are used to ensure young people are adequately supported, especially in the night. Consent is gained from social workers and parents on admission for the monitors/sensors. We also have visual monitors which are only used when deemed necessary for reasons such as high risk behaviours in bedroom and life limiting seizure activity etc.

20. Fire Precautions Adopted within Park House

All PCR homes are subject to Fire Officer Inspections and any recommendations are implemented with the utmost priority.

Park House has appropriate fire equipment, smoke alarms and heat detectors, which are regularly tested by staff and serviced by a designated person from a fire safety company.

All staff and children at Park House are familiar with all aspects of the fire policy and procedures. Regular fire drills are conducted within the home, with the outcome and results monitored, in accordance with the Park House fire policy and procedure. Such drills are undertaken to identify, clarify and resolve any issues or problems with regards to the fire safety policy. The Fire Safety procedure is clearly visible throughout appropriate locations in Park House.

21. Cultural Identity and Religious Observance

In the interests of maintaining the balanced development of the child/young person and in keeping with Equality and Diversity good practice, all Park House staff ensure that every child/young person will be given the opportunity to uphold their cultural identity, and religious beliefs. All staff will be responsible for ensuring that opportunities for religious observance are understood and respected by themselves and other children within the home.

Each young person is provided with the opportunity, as far as is reasonable and practicable, to attend religious services and receive religious instruction as are appropriate to his/her religious beliefs.

Special attention is given where religious observances may involve the provision of special facilities.

22. Contact Arrangements

The organisation's policies and procedures within Park House are all carefully followed by all staff, and are geared towards: –

- Maintaining, supporting and actively encouraging regular and consistent contact with the child's/young person's family, friends, as well as significant others. This is achieved through telephone calls, letters; supervised contact, home visits in addition to visits to see the child/young person within home.
- Maintaining and encouraging regular access to, and contact with, the child's/young person's Social Worker, ensuring any issues or concerns can be discussed between the child/young person and his or her social worker.
- To maintain regular contact and co-operation with other psychologists, psychiatrists, professional associations, and workers when it is appropriate. This will ensure that our core philosophy, which is that the welfare and support of the child is central to all aspects of related care policies, is maintained. This will include challenging where necessary, other professionals where it is felt that a service is lacking.

25. Provisions Made Available by Park House

1. Develop and sustain a manner of living, which encourages within each child/young person a sense of stability, security, worth and responsibility.
2. Positively promote and encourage awareness within each child of intellectual, religious, and cultural matters as part of their overall development plan.
3. Develop and maintain a sound professional relationship with the child/young person, based on the principle of mutual respect, and continuous consultation. Staff will ensure that this principle is still maintained even though there may be specific periods where the behaviour of the child/young person may be seen as unacceptable.
4. Promote and encourage the understanding, acceptance, and operation of acceptable forms of behaviour amongst every child/young person within Park House.
5. Develop an understanding of the individual needs of each child/young person, whilst encouraging the exchange of views and opinions between the staff and child/young person.

Child/Young Person Participation and Involvement

At PCR, children/young people are encouraged and supported in self-expression. They are encouraged and helped to recognise their rights and responsibilities. In support of the above, children/young people are encouraged to participate in weekly house meetings. House meetings are designed to allow children to express their views and concerns and to celebrate things that they like or make them happy. Also, children are supported and encouraged to take part in the reviews of their Care and Placement Plans.

For children that struggle to participate in the group setting, although they will receive ongoing support and encouragement, regular one to one keyworking sessions allow them to feed into the home's decision-making processes. Through whatever channel, PCR staff are encouraged and expected to elicit the views of our children and to ensure these are taken into account in the day to day running of our homes.

26. Therapeutic Techniques

A diagnosis of an autistic spectrum disorder or learning disability does not predict the complex needs and associated behaviours of any individual young person. Our supportive environment can provide an opportunity for young people to gradually gain a better understanding of themselves and their needs, wishes, behaviours, strengths and challenges.

It's this environment, together with the multi-disciplinary support we provide, that can make Park House a suitable residential placement for young people, who on a day-to-day basis have to deal with their own complex needs in the context of a world that can, at times, be very challenging for them.

The care and well-being of the young people we support are paramount and everything we do is to ensure that each young person's best interests are met.

If necessary, the team are able to access other professionals within the local community, which could also be beneficial to a young person, i.e. Speech therapist, CAMHS, Connexions, and Specialist Schools. We can also access Enabling Care who use a range of therapeutic techniques which are geared towards residential settings, this service, if agreed, may incur an additional fee.

27. Anti-discrimination at Park House

Park House is a Child Centred unit with its policy, procedural and practice framework designed to promote, in both philosophical and practical terms, the premise that the 'welfare of the child should be the paramount consideration' in any given care situation.

Our company name depicts our view that good, effective and appropriate comprehensive Care can serve to provide for the short or long-term Solutions necessary to block, reverse, prevent or stem those prohibitive and harmful factors that serve to interfere with the healthy and progressive development of our children. We believe that effective, well-planned care arrangements should serve as a Pathway to Independence.

PCR believes that happiness should not be a destination but rather, a journey. Children have the right to enjoy the journey through early life to independence, following a Pathway, underpinned by the following key principles:

All of our children deserve and should be afforded the opportunity to:

- Be as physically and mentally healthy and able as possible
- Enjoy maximum benefit and levels of attainment through good-quality and appropriate educational and developmental opportunities.
- Live in an environment that assures safety and protection from harm
- Feel loved, respected and valued. Be encouraged, guided, motivated and supported through a network of reliable, affectionate and safe relationships.
- Experience and enjoy emotional, mental and physical well-being.
- Feel empowered and enabled to become competent in self-care and everyday living.
- Be encouraged to believe in themselves, through the development and maintenance of positive self-esteem, confidence and respect.
- Have a secure and informed sense of identity, including cultural, racial and gender-based identity.

development and use of good inter-personal skills and confidence in social settings and opportunities to play a part.

- To understand and enjoy rights and responsibilities and to be able to exercise effectively both principles, both in the care setting and in later life.

PCR firmly believes in its care philosophy, which impacts on and guides all areas of our service provision to every child/young person.
