Wherever possible, and in any case as soon as possible after he or she has returned, the child/young person will be seen by his or her social worker or a person who is independent of the home. If this is not possible, PCR will always record the reasons given by the child and these are reported to child/young person's social worker, if appropriate, changes to Placement / Care plans are recommended and agreed with appropriate people, including the child/young person.

Any reports from a child that indicates he or she went missing in response to being abused will be immediately reported to Social Services and appropriate measures are made to protect the child/young person.

When a young person is absent from the home or the supervision of a member of staff without consent or authority, and then the following procedure will be followed:

- Staff will initially conduct a search of the interior of the home then the outside surrounding area to locate and confirm the whereabouts of the young person and their safety.
- If the young person has not returned to the home within a previously specified time then a member of staff should go out and look for the young person. This should only be done after consultation with a colleague and it has been agreed that such action will not place the other young people or staff at risk.
- If the search by staff has proved inconclusive then the member of staff searching for the young person should report the young person as missing to the local police. They should also notify the young person's Social Worker, parents and any significant others. If outside normal office hours then the young person's Out of Hours Duty Team must be contacted.
- The time period for reporting young people missing to the Police when they are out with a member of staff would be made after consideration has been given to their age, personal circumstances, vulnerability and previous history. This time period should be clearly noted in the young person's care plan and risk assessment and updated according to need.

25. Provisions Made Available by Becca House

As highlighted, all Residential Child Care Workers within the home are responsible for providing and promoting the provision of various developmental aspects in the life of the child/young person, which includes their health, physical needs, emotional security, social experience, sleep, clothing, and diet. Furthermore, all Residential Child Care Workers and supporting residential staff will ensure that they:

- Develop and sustain a manner of living, which encourages within each child/young person a sense of stability, security, worth and responsibility.
- Positively promote and encourage awareness within each child of intellectual, religious, and cultural matters as part of their overall development plan.
- Develop and maintain a sound professional relationship with the child/young person, based on the principle of mutual respect, and continuous consultation. Staff will ensure that this principle is still maintained even though there may be specific periods where the behaviour of the child/young person may be seen as unacceptable.
- Promote and encourage the understanding, acceptance, and operation of acceptable forms of behaviour amongst every child/young person within Becca House.
- Develop an understanding of the individual needs of each child/young person, whilst encouraging the exchange of views and opinions between the staff and child/young person.

Child/Young Person Participation and Involvement

At PCR, children/young people are encouraged and supported in self-expression. They are encouraged and helped to recognise their rights and responsibilities. In support of the above children/young people are encouraged to participate in weekly House Meetings. House Meetings are designed to allow children to express their views and concerns and to celebrate things that they like or make them happy. Also, children are supported and encouraged to take part in the reviews of their Care and Placement Plans. Many various communication aids are used such as Widget, PEKs, Makaton etc. to enable young people to have a voice.

For children that struggle to participate in the group setting, although they will receive ongoing support and encouragement, regular one to one Key Work sessions allow them to feed into the PCR/Homes decision making processes. Through whatever channel, PCR staff are encouraged and expected to elicit the views of our children and to ensure these are taken into account in the day to day running of our homes.

26. Therapeutic Techniques

A diagnosis of an autistic spectrum disorder or learning disability does not predict the complex needs and associated behaviours of any individual young person. Our therapeutic environment can provide an opportunity for young people to gradually gain a better understanding of themselves and their needs, wishes, behaviours, strengths and challenges.

It's this environment, together with the multi-disciplinary support we provide, that can make Becca House a suitable residential placement for young people, who on a day-to-day basis have to deal with their own complex needs in the context of a world that can, at times, be very challenging for them.

The care and well-being of the young people we support are paramount and everything we do is to ensure that each young person's best interests are met.

To keep young people safe there are times when the use of physical interventions may be needed (MAPA). This would be as a last resort to support young people in crisis, to reduce both stress and risk. In such instances, we follow BILD guidance. Pathway Care Residential have BILD accreditation for children's services.

In relation to the therapeutic methods used by staff at the home with regard to the way we work with young people at the home a specialised therapist does not always provide 'therapy'. Purposefully planned intervention is implemented in a structured way to aid the progression of all young people at the Home and any specialist service may incur an additional fee. Such intervention is clearly limited to the identified needs contained within the young person's care plan and any alterations to this plan in regard to the young person's behaviour would automatically result in a change to the method of planned intervention. If necessary, the team are able to access other professionals within the local community, which could also be beneficial to a young person, i.e. Speech therapist, CAMHS, Connexions, and Specialist Schools.

27. Anti-discrimination at Becca House

Becca House is a Child Centred home with its policy, procedural and practice framework designed to promote, in both philosophical and practical terms, the premise that the 'welfare of the child should be the paramount consideration' in any given care situation.

Our company name depicts our view that good, effective and appropriate comprehensive Care can serve to provide for the short or long-term Solutions necessary to block, reverse, prevent or stem those prohibitive and harmful factors that serve to interfere with the healthy and progressive development of our children. We believe that effective, well-planned care arrangements should serve as a Pathway to Independence.

PCR believes that happiness should not be a destination but rather, a journey. Children have the right to enjoy the journey through early life to independence, following a Pathway, underpinned by the following key principles:

All of our children deserve and should be afforded the opportunity to:

- Be as physically and mentally healthy and able as possible
- Enjoy maximum benefit and levels of attainment through good-quality and appropriate educational and developmental opportunities.
- Live in an environment that assures safety and protection from harm
- Feel loved, respected and valued. Be encouraged, guided, motivated and supported through a network of reliable, affectionate and safe relationships.
- Experience and enjoy emotional, mental and physical well-being.
- Feel empowered and enabled to become competent in self-care and everyday living.
- Be encouraged to believe in themselves, through the development and maintenance of positive self-esteem, confidence and respect.
- Have a secure and informed sense of identity, including cultural, racial and gender-based identity.
- Understand and enjoy a sense of community and citizenship through the development and use of good inter-personal skills and confidence in social settings and opportunities to play a part.

Becca House Statement of Purpose
